

The Department of Comparative Literature and Intercultural Studies at the University of Georgia invites applicants for the position of Full-time Instructor in Vietnamese, to begin August 1, 2022. This is a full-time, non-tenure-track appointment. The teaching load is four courses per semester. Duties include teaching introductory, intermediate, and advanced Vietnamese language courses. The successful candidate will demonstrate a strong commitment to effective language pedagogy, teaching supervision and mentorship, innovation with technology, and curriculum development, and a record of teaching excellence.

Applicants should have an M.A. or M.Ed. in either Vietnamese Studies, or in second language acquisition, language pedagogy, or a related field, with an emphasis in Vietnamese. Candidates with a non-terminal degree must document exceptional accomplishments in their field and/or in the teaching of the Vietnamese language and must be approved for a terminal degree exception before hire.

Additional Qualifications:

- Must be currently legally eligible to work in the United States.
- Native or near-native fluency in both Vietnamese and English.
- Three years of experience teaching Vietnamese language at the undergraduate level.
- Ability to teach Vietnamese literature and culture would be welcome.
- Candidates must have their degree in hand at the time of application.

Applications should include cover letter (2 pages max), CV, statement of teaching philosophy (1 page max), and portfolio with an example syllabus and representative sample of teaching evaluations. Applicants will also be asked to provide contacts for three references, at least one of which should be able to address the candidate's teaching record. Letters of recommendation will be requested later in the search process. Finalists will be asked to submit a teaching portfolio. Applications received by January 17, 2022, will receive full consideration. The position is open until filled. Apply online through the UGAJobs website: <https://www.ugajobsearch.com/postings/233968>. Inquiries should be addressed to Dr. Hyangsoon Yi, chair of the search committee (hyangsyi@uga.edu).
